

Diversity and Inclusion For Volunteers: Online Training

OVERVIEW

Diversity and inclusion in your volunteer program is important. Volunteers are the public face of your organization. Your volunteer workforce should be diverse and inclusive. To encourage diversity among volunteers, you must start by ensuring that ALL volunteers feel equally safe and respected.

DEI online training for volunteers educates participants about acceptable and unacceptable attitudes and behaviours, and their role in supporting a respectful, inclusive volunteer environment.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

- Recognize the benefits of diversity and inclusion and the characteristics of a respectful volunteer environment
- Personal attitudes and behaviours that reflect consideration for others
- Simple, practical strategies to ensure that cross-cultural conversations are respectful
- How to recognize unacceptable behaviours, including discrimination, harassment and bullying
- How to respond appropriately to unacceptable behaviours, whether as the target, the accused, or a bystander

WHY YOU WILL ENJOY THE LEARNING EXPERIENCE

- Start now. The learning experience is 100% online. Start immediately.
- Learn at your pace. This is a self-paced course. Move through content materials at a pace that matches your learning style and prior knowledge of the topic.
- Use any device. Responsive design lets you learn using a computer, smartphone or tablet.
- Get a Certificate of Completion. As soon as you pass mandatory testing, you can download a Certificate of Completion that includes your name and the date of training.
- Enjoy the experience. Learning doesn't need to be boring! We keep you engaged, with interactive exercises, pop up quizzes, scenario activities, and more.

HOW LONG DOES THIS COURSE TAKE TO COMPLETE

This is a self-paced learning experience. That said, most participants will complete the course within 1.0 – 1.5 hours.